Sensational podium number five for Quartararo at Thailand GP
Fabio Quartararo has taken a sensational fifth podium finish of his rookie MotoGP season for PETRONAS Yamaha Sepang Racing Team at the Thailand Grand Prix, finishing a mere 0.171 secs behind 2019 World Champion Marc Marquez. Quartararo was once again able to spend almost all of the race in front, converting his pole position into the race lead with a blistering start. Defending from Marquez until the final lap of the race, the newly-crowned world champion was just able to make a move in the few corners, leaving Quartararo to settle for second place for the second time in three races. The result helps consolidate his lead in the rookie of the year and Independent Riders´ championship, as well as moving him to only two points from sixth in the overall title fight.

Monster Energy Yamaha MotoGP's Maverick Viñales secured third place on the podium, his sixth podium and fourth bronze trophy of the season. Viñales had a good start from second but had to hand over a position to Marc Marquez before Turn 1. The pace was relentless at the front of the field. The two riders ahead of the Factory Yamaha man consistently set times in the low 1'31s. The Spaniard was pushing on every lap but was unable to stay in touch with the leaders, due to a lack of traction.

Today's third place sees Viñales move up to fourth in the championship standings, two places ahead of Rossi, with 18 points between them. Yamaha remains third in the constructor standings, and Monster Energy Yamaha MotoGP also stay in third place in the team classification.
Yamaha extend their congratulations to Marc Marquez of the Repsol Honda Team for taking the 2019 MotoGP World Championship.

Marc Marquez 1° Team Honda Repsol HRC 2019 MOTOGP WORLD CHAMPION 1st
“I´m very happy. I´m so happy. When you have an advantage like I had you realise you are so close to the championship but you need to find something to keep you motivated. Today it was winning the race and it´s what I did. Fabio was so fast during the race but I never gave up, even during the middle of the race where it looked like he was escaping. It was a beautiful way to win the championship “ even if I wasn´t thinking about it on the last lap! Arriving in parc ferme with the whole Repsol Honda Team there was fantastic; it´s a dream to do it with the whole fan club and the nice celebration. Every year is special, it´s not easy to keep everything perfect each year to fight for the title and I had a very hard winter with the injury but myself, the team and HRC managed it well. Now we´ll enjoy this feeling a little bit!“

Yoshishige Nomura HRC President
“Marc Marquez did a magnificent job once again to win his sixth MotoGP title on Honda´s 60th anniversary of World Grand Prix racing. I wholeheartedly salute his dauntless riding that mesmerizes his fans, supported by his persistent training and mature attitude towards racing. I´m grateful for all the support in winning the championship he had from the team staff, the many sponsors who support our racing activities, and MotoGP fans worldwide.“

Fabio Quartararo 2° Team PETRONAS Yamaha Sepang Racing
“It was an amazing race, thanks largely to feeling so comfortable with the bike from the very beginning. Unfortunately, we didn´t finish on the top step of the podium, but we were able to have another fight with the new world champion right to the last corner. It was an important race because we´ve made another step forward at a track that isn´t exactly perfect for us. Marc´s race pace in practice was three tenths of a second a lap faster than us, but we were able to battle with him. I gave it my all in the last corner because if I didn´t, I wouldn´t have been able to sleep until the next race in Japan, and I can´t wait to head there next!“

Maverick Viñales 3° Team Monster Energy Yamaha
"I'm happy, I'm feeling positive, and I accept the third place, but it's not enough. We have to work harder and make another step. I noticed a difference between myself, Fabio, and Marc, especially in traction areas. But I was still able to hit good lap times and close the gap at the end of the race. This means we have some strong points, but we have to improve the weak points. When you have no traction and a full tank, it's very difficult to get the lap times. As soon as the fuel went down a bit, I could carry a lot of corner speed and make the lap times again. I had a much better feeling in today's Warm Up than I had during the race, so we need to understand this and improve for Japan."
